Rainforest Facts
The Amazon rainforest is the largest tropical rainforest in the world. There are four layers to the rainforest. It takes around 10 minutes for the rain to reach the forest floor from the emergent layer at the top. One of the deadliest animals in the Amazon rainforest is the Black Caiman. It is the largest member of the Alligator family.

Science Language Dozen
Habitat	A habitat provides animals with three things: food, shelter and a safe place to raise their young. The natural home or environment of an animal.
Energy	The ability to be active or to work. Humans and animals rely on food to get their energy.
Micro-habitat	A small home or environment of an animal or plant, eg. A rockpool, a rotting log.
Environment	The surroundings in which a person, animal or plant lives.
Life processes	All living things have a life process. Things that are living can eat, grow, breathe, move, excrete, reproduce and respond to sensitivity (use their senses to respond to a change in sound, heat or light).
Food source	Something that people or animals eat.
Food chain	Shows how each living thing gets its food.
Living	All living things go through the seven life processes listed above.
Dead	Was once alive but no longer living.
Never living	Non-living things have never been alive. They do not eat, grow, breathe, move, excrete, reproduce or respond to sensitivity, eg. a car, a rock, a building.
Depend	Relying on someone/something to survive, eg. Humans depend on animals and plants to survive. We need them so that we can eat.
Survive	To stay alive.
